Dear parents/carers

I did not expect to be writing to you so soon, unfortunately we enter another period of lockdown and students will not be returning to school until February half term. I would like to remind you that we are still open to children of critical workers, however the message from the government is that children are safest at home. If you do need to send your child to school then please contact the school reception as we need to make staffing arrangements.

BTEC exams are still taking place over the next week and students have been informed of the details of these. The situation surrounding summer exams are not yet clear, the government announcement yesterday stated "that it won't be possible for all exams to go ahead as normal this summer." As further information is provided to schools we will inform you.

Consent forms for testing have been sent out, we will need these returned in preparation for after half term when we will be testing all students on their return to school.

Heads of year will be communicating regularly with students via email, please inform Heads of year initially of any concerns or issues that you may have with online learning.

This is yet another challenge for us all, but we all have to remember to do what we can to keep ourselves and each other safe.

Yours sincerely,

J Sweeney
